

EMPLOYEE HEALTH EXAMINATIONS

As a condition of employment, new District employees shall complete a health examination performed by a qualified medical practitioner. As required by state law, the practitioner who performs the examination must complete a report of the examination and be able to make confidential recommendations therefrom to the District and to the employee. Any such new-employee health examination shall include a screening questionnaire for tuberculosis (approved by the Wisconsin Department of Health Services) and, if indicated, a test to determine the presence or absence of tuberculosis in a communicable form. To the extent provided under state law, freedom from tuberculosis in a communicable form is a condition of employment.

By policy or rule, the District may require employees to complete additional health examinations at specified intervals. Any such additional examination may include the completion of a screening questionnaire for tuberculosis that is administered by a qualified medical practitioner, school nurse, or registered nurse.

The initial employment health examination and any interval-based re-examinations that are required under this policy shall be conducted at no cost to the employee. To the extent permitted or required by law, the administration may differentiate the specific scope and timing of employee health examinations based upon the position and duties that the employee is expected to perform.

To the extent mandated by applicable law, new-employee health examinations and any interval-based re-examinations that are not separately required by a state or federal law shall not be mandatory for any employee (or applicant who has been offered employment) who files a written affidavit with the District that sets forth (1) that they depend exclusively upon prayer or spiritual means for healing in accordance with the teachings of a bona fide religious sect, denomination or organization; (2) that the employee is, to the best of the employee's knowledge and belief, in sound health; and (3) that the employee claims exemption from a health examination on these grounds. No employee shall be discriminated against by reason of their filing of such an affidavit. However, notwithstanding the filing of any such affidavit, the District reserves the right to require a health examination by an appropriate medical practitioner where the District has reasonable cause to believe that the employee (or applicant) is suffering from a condition that would be detrimental to the health of students and in any other circumstances permitted or required by law.
